WORKSHOP I: “Preparing Manuscript for an International Reputable Journal: A to Z Tips for Success”

Zoom Virtual Room, Friday, September 17, 2021

1. Background

Novice writers/ researchers usually have to struggle to publish in reputable journals, but that can often be the case because although of good quality, their work often lacks the finesse and attention to detail that an experienced researcher has. Having said that, there is a first time for everyone.
